- When recording receivables: is the buying rate of the commercial bank where the Company designates the customer to pay at the time the transaction occurs;
- When recording payables: is the selling rate of the commercial bank where the Company plans to transact at the time the transaction occurs;
- When purchasing assets or making immediate payments in foreign currency: is the buying rate of the commercial bank where the Company makes the payment.

Provision for doubtful debts is made for each doubtful debt based on the expected level of loss that may occur.

6. Inventories

Inventories are initially recorded at cost, including purchase costs, processing costs and other directly related costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their location and condition at the time of initial recording. After initial recording, at the time of preparing the Financial Statements, if the net realizable value of the inventory is lower than the original price, the inventory is recorded at net realizable value.

Inventory value is determined by the weighted average method.

Inventories are accounted for using the perpetual inventory method.

During use, leased fixed assets are recorded at their original cost, accumulated depreciation and residual value.

Fixed asset depreciation is provided using the straight-line method with the estimated depreciation period as follows:

- Buildings, structures	05 - 25 years
- Machinery and equipment	03 - 15 years
- Vehicles, Transportation equipment	06 - 10 years
- Office equipment and furniture	03 - 10 years
- Other assets	05 - 10 years
- Long-term land use rights without depreciation

9. Prepaid expenses

Expenses incurred related to the business performance of many accounting periods are recorded as prepaid expenses to be gradually allocated to the business performance in the following accounting periods.

The calculation and allocation of long-term prepaid expenses into production and business expenses for each accounting period is based on the nature and extent of each type of expense to select a reasonable allocation method and criteria. Prepaid expenses are gradually allocated into production and business expenses using the straight-line method.

10. Payables

Payables are monitored by payment term, payable entity, original currency and other factors according to the Company's management needs.

11. Borrowings and finance lease liabilities

The value of the finance lease liability is the total amount payable calculated by the present value of the minimum lease payments or the fair value of the leased asset.
