3.5. Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL)*Financial assets recognized at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL)

Financial assets recognized at fair value through profit or loss are financial assets that satisfy either of the following conditions:

- a) It is classified as held for trading. A financial asset is classified as held for trading if:
  - It is acquired or incurred principally for the purpose of selling or repurchasing it in the near term;
  - There is evidence of a recent actual pattern of short-term profit-taking; or
  - It is a derivative (except derivative that is a financial guarantee contract or effective hedging instrument).
- b) Upon initial recognition, a financial asset will be presented more reasonably if classified at fair value through profit or loss as it meets one of the following criterias:
  - The designation eliminates or significantly reduces the inconsistent treatment that would otherwise arise from measuring the asset or recognising gains or losses on a different basis;
  - The assets are part of a group of financial assets which are managed, and their performance is evaluated on a fair value basis, in accordance with the Company's risk management policy or investment strategy.

These financial assets often include: stocks, bonds, monetary instruments, derivatives (for hedging purposes)..

Financial assets are reclassified out of FVTPL in cases where the financial asset is a loan or receivable and is intended to be held for a specified period in the future or until maturity, or where the financial asset is a deposit that qualifies for classification under cash and cash equivalents.

When a securities company sells financial assets that are not classified as FVTPL, it must reclassify the relevant financial assets from other categories into the FVTPL group. Any fair value revaluation differences previously recorded under "Fair Value Revaluation Differences" shall be recognized as revenue or expense on the date of reclassification upon sale of the financial assets.

Non-derivative financial assets initially not required to be classified as FVTPL may be reclassified into the loans and receivables category under certain specific circumstances, or into the cash and cash equivalents category if they meet the criteria for such classification. Any gains or losses previously recognized from fair value revaluation of FVTPL assets prior to reclassification shall not be reversed.

FVTPL financial assets that are instruments reaching maturity must be reclassified as receivables and provisioned as doubtful debts(if any).

Principle of revaluation of financial assets recorded through profit/loss (FVTPL)

The value of financial assets measured at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL) is initially recognized at the actual purchase price (historical cost). Any transaction costs incurred in acquiring FVTPL financial assets are immediately recognized as expenses in the income statement.

After initial recognition, FVTPL financial assets are measured at market value. All gains or losses arising from changes in the value of these financial assets are classified under the fair value through profit or loss category and are recognized in the income statement.

At the end of each accounting period, financial assets classified as FVTPL in the securities company's financial asset portfolio must be revalued at market price or fair value (if market price is unavailable).

At the first revaluation period, the fair value revaluation of FVTPL financial assets in the securities company's portfolio is reflected in Account 1212 "Revaluation Differences" as the difference between the revalued fair value or market price and the original purchase price of the FVTPL financial assets.

In the presentation of the financial position statement, the item "Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss" is shown on a net basis. This item is calculated as follows: FVTPL Financial Assets = Debit balance of Account 1211 "Purchase Price"  $\pm$  Debit/Credit balance of Account 1212 "Revaluation Differences".

In the notes to the financial statements, FVTPL financial assets in the securities company's portfolio must be presented under three indicators: purchase value, revaluation value, and net value (purchase value  $\pm$  revaluation value), categorized by type of FVTPL financial asset.

Revaluation gains or losses of FVTPL financial assets in the securities company's portfolio are recognized on a non-offsetting basis and presented in the income statement under two separate indicators:

- Revaluation losses of FVTPL financial assets are reflected under "Losses and transaction costs from purchasing financial assets – proprietary trading activities," specifically "Revaluation losses of FVTPL financial assets".
- Revaluation gains of FVTPL financial assets are reflected under "Income," specifically "Revaluation gains – FVTPL financial assets".

Revaluation gains or losses of FVTPL financial assets in the securities company's portfolio determine the unrealized profit or loss for the accounting period.

3.6. Held-to-maturity investments (HTM)

Held-to-maturity investments are non-derivative financial assets with determinable payments and fixed maturity that an entity has the positive intention and ability to hold to maturity other than:

- a. Those that the entity upon initial recognition designates as at fair value through profit or loss;
- b. Those that the entity designates as available-for-sale; and
- c. Those meet the definition of loans and receivables.

Held-to-maturity investments are recognized initially at cost (acquisition cost of the assets plus (+) transaction costs which are directly attributable to the investments such as brokerage fee, trading fee, issuance agency fee and banking transaction fee). After initial recognition, held-to-maturity financial investments are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest rate ("EIR").

Amortized cost of HTM financial investments is the amount at which the financial asset is measured at initial recognition minus (-) principal repayments, plus (+) or minus (-) the cumulative amortization using the effective interest method of any difference between that initial amount and the maturity amount, and minus (-) any reduction for impairment or irrecoverability (if any).

The effective interest rate method is a method of calculating the cost allocation on interest income or interest expense in the year of a financial asset or a group of HTM investments.

The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments or receipts through the expected life of the financial instrument or, when appropriate, a shorter period to the net carrying amount of the financial asset or financial liabilities.

HTM investments are subject to an assessment of impairment at the separate financial statement date. Provision is made for an HTM investment when there is any objective evidence that the investment is irrecoverable or there is uncertainty of recoverability, resulting from one or more events that has occurred after the initial recognition of the investment and that event have an impact on the estimated future cash flows of the investment that can be reliably estimated. Evidence of impairment may include a drop in the fair value/market value of the debt, indications that the debtors or a group of debtors are experiencing significant financial difficulty, default or delinquency in interest or principal payments, the probability that they will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganization and where observable data indicates that there is a measurable decrease in the estimated future cash flows, such as changes in arrears or economic conditions that correlate with defaults. When there is any evidence of impairment, provision for an HTM investment is determined as the negative difference between its fair value and amortized cost at the assessment date. Any increase/decrease in the balance of provision is recognized in the separate income statement under "Provision expenses for diminution in value and impairment of financial assets and doubtful receivables and borrowing costs of loans".

Fair value/market value of the securities is determined as follows:

- For securities listed on Hanoi Stock Exchange and Ho Chi Minh City Stock Exchange, their market prices are their closing prices on the trading day preceding the date of setting up the revaluation;
- For unlisted securities registered for trading on the Unlisted Public Company Market ("UPCOM"), their market prices are their closing prices on the trading day preceding the date of setting up the revaluation;
- For delisted securities and suspended trading securities from the sixth day afterward, their prices are the book value at the latest financial report date; and.
- For unlisted and unregistered securities, the valuation is based on the average of actual transaction prices quoted by three securities companies that have conducted transactions at the closest time to the valuation date, but not exceeding one month prior to the date of fair value assessment. In cases where no actual transactions have occurred within that one-month period, the fair value of the securities is not assessed. For securities that are not listed, due to the inability to determine their market value, the Company is unable to assess their fair value;
- For securities which do not have reference price from the above sources, the revaluation is determined based on the financial performance and the book value of securities issuers as at the assessment date.

Securities whose market value is not determined by the above methods will not be subject to provision.

3.8. Derecognition of financial assets

A financial asset (or, where applicable a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is derecognized when:

- The rights to receive cash flows from the assets have expired; or
- The Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the assets or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a "pass-through" arrangement; and either:
  - ✓ the Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the assets, or
  - ✓ the Company has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset but has transferred control of the asset.

When the Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset or has entered into a pass-through arrangement; and has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset nor transferred control of the asset, the asset is recognized to the extent of the Company's continuing involvement in the asset. In that case, the Company also recognizes an associated liability. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects the rights and obligations that the Company has retained.

The continued participation in transferred assets in the form of guarantee will be recognized at smaller value between the initial carrying value of the assets and the maximum amount that the Company is required to pay.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (continued)*3.9. Reclassification of financial assets*Reclassification when selling financial assets other than FVTPL

When selling financial assets other than FVTPL, securities companies are required to reclassify those financial assets to financial assets at FVTPL. The difference arising from the revaluation of financial assets AFS which was recognized in "Difference from revaluation of assets at fair value" will be recognized as corresponding revenue or expenses at the date of reclassification of financial assets AFS for selling purpose.

Reclassification due to change in purpose or ability to hold

Securities companies are required to reclassify financial assets to their applicable categories if their purpose or ability to hold has changed, consequently:

- Non-derivative financial assets at FVTPL or financial assets that are not required to be classified as financial asset at FVTPL at the initial recognition can be classified as loans and other receivables or as cash and cash equivalents if the requirements are met. The gains or losses arising from revaluation of financial assets at FVTPL prior to the reclassification are not allowed to be reversed;
- Due to changes in purposes or ability to hold, some HTM investments are required to be reclassified into AFS financial assets and to be revaluated at fair value. The difference arising from revaluation between carrying value and fair value are recognized under "Difference from revaluation of assets at fair value" in Owners' equity in the separate statement of financial position.

3.10. Receivables

Receivables are initially recorded at cost and subsequently always presented at cost.

Receivables are subject to review for impairment based on their overdue status or estimated loss arising from undue debts of corporate debtors who have bankruptcy or are under liquidation; or of individual debtors who are missing, have fled, are prosecuted, detained or tried by law enforcement bodies, are serving sentences or have deceased. Increases or decreases to the provision balance are recorded as "Provision expenses for diminution in value and impairment of financial assets and doubtful debts and borrowing costs of loans" and "Other operating expenses" in the separate income statement.

The provision for doubtful receivables is made in accordance with current regulations.

For receivables that are not yet due but are considered uncollectible, the Company estimates the potential loss (up to the value of the debt recorded in the accounting books) to make provision.

8.2. Purposes and policies of financial risk management

The Company's financial liabilities comprise mostly liabilities and borrowings, payables to suppliers and other payables. The main purpose of these financial liabilities is to finance the Company's operations. The Company has loans, trade and other receivables, cash and shortterm deposits that arise directly from its operations.

The Company is exposed to market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk.

Risk management is integral to the whole business of the Company. The Company has a system of controls in place to maintain an acceptable balance between the cost arisen from risks and the cost of managing the risks. The Management continually monitors the Company's risk management process to ensure that an appropriate balance between risk and control is achieved.

Management reviews and agrees policies for monitoring each of these risks which are summarized below:

Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. There are four types of market risk: interest rate risk, currency risk, commodity price risk and other price risk, such as equity price risk. Financial instruments affected by market risk include loans and borrowings, deposits, financial assets at FVTPL, covered warrants and available-for-sale investments.

The Company manages market risk by analysing financial sensitivity of the Company as at 31st December 2025 and 31st December 2024. When analysing sensitivity, Management assumes that sensitivity of Available-for-sale debt instruments in the statement of financial position and other related items in the income statement is affected by changes in corresponding market risk. The analysis is based on financial assets and liabilities held by the Company as at 31st December 2025 and 31st December 2024.

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Company's exposure to market risk due to changes in interest rate relates primarily to cash and short-term deposits of the Company. Financial liabilities have fixed interest rate.

The Company manages interest rate risk by looking at the competitive structure of the market to identify a proper interest rate policy which is favourable for purposes of the Company within its risk management limits. The Company assesses that the risk resulting from interest rate changes on the Company at the date of the report is negligible. The Company's bank deposits, certificates of deposit, corporate bonds and loans are mostly fixed interest rate and withdrawn according to the maturity period stipulated by each item. Fixed-rate loans are determined in each specific loan covenant.

Foreign exchange risk

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. The Company's exposure to the risk of changes in foreign exchange rates relates primarily to the Company's operating activities (in which revenue or expense is denominated in a different currency from the Company's accounting currency) and its investments in overseas subsidiaries.

The Company manages foreign exchange risk by considering current and expected market conditions when the Company plans to buy and sell commodities in the future in foreign currencies. For the purpose of minimizing foreign currency risks, the Company applies hedging measures by entering into foreign currency derivative contracts with commercial banks.

At the date of the financial statements, the Company had no foreign currency loans, the impact of foreign currency risks was eliminated from the financial situation.

Equity price risk

Listed and unlisted securities which are held by the Company are affected by market risk arising from the uncertainty of future value of invested securities. The Company manages equity price risk by establishing investment limits. The Company's Investment Council considers and approves investments decisions in securities.

As at the reporting date, the fair value of investment in listed shares and fund certificates (FVTPL and AFS) of the Company was VND 91,469,000,000. The 10% increase (or decrease) in market index would possibly result in a corresponding increase (or decrease) in revenue from investment of the Company, depending on its magnitude and length as well as the Company's ownership position of securities which have significant influence on market index.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that counterparty would not meet its obligations under a financial instrument or customer contract, leading to a financial loss. The Company is exposed to credit risk from its operating activities (primarily for receivables) and from its financing activities, including deposits with banks, foreign exchanges activities and other financial instruments.

Customer credit risk is managed by the Company based on its established policies, procedures and control relating to customer credit risk management. Credit quality customers is evaluated on the basis of Management's assessment.

Outstanding customer receivables are regularly monitored. Customer credit quality's impairment is analysed at each reporting date on an individual basis for major clients. The Company closely monitors outstanding receivables and operates a credit control unit to mitigate credit risk. Due to the fact that the Company's receivables relate to a large number of diversified customers, there is no significant concentration of credit risk.

Bank deposits

The Company's bank balances are mainly maintained with high credit rating banks in Vietnam. Credit risk from balances with banks is managed by the Company's Capital and Financial Business Division in accordance with the Company's policy. The Company's maximum exposure to credit risk for the components of the statement of financial position at each reporting date is the carrying value as presented in Notes to financial statements. The Company evaluates the concentration of credit risk with respect to bank deposits as low.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will encounter difficulties in meeting financial obligations. The Company's exposure to liquidity risk arises when the Company is unable to meet its financial obligations as they fall due, primarily due to mismatches in the maturity terms of financial assets and liabilities. The maturity terms of financial assets and liabilities reflect the remaining period of financial assets and liabilities from the reporting date to the date of settlement set out in the contracts or terms of issuance. For FVTPL and AFS financial assets, the maturity terms are determined based on the liquidity of the assets (the ability to sell and purchase the assets in short term) on the market.

The Company monitors its liquidity risk by maintaining a level of cash and cash equivalents, borrowings deemed adequate by the Management to finance the Company's operations and to mitigate the effects of fluctuations in cash flows.
