Dear: - State Securities Commission of Vietnam
- Hanoi Stock Exchange

Based on the business performance results for the year 2026, Petrolimex Saigon Transportation and Service Joint Stock Company (PSC) records profit after tax: 2.140.938.296 VND, a difference of more than 10% on PAT from the year-ago period due to:

- Input fuel prices increased due to macroeconomic factors, significantly driving up the Company's operating and overall production and business costs.
- Revenue growth has tended to be slower than the increase in costs, particularly fuel expenses which account for a significant proportion of the cost structure, leading to margin compression and a decline in profit after tax.
- Nevertheless, the Company has maintained stable operations, proactively implementing management measures, strengthening cost control and optimization efforts to enhance operational efficiency and overall business performance.

Above figures are the reasons making the difference on net profit comparing to the same period the year, more than 10%.
